Naples Train Station

Buy your tickets from a Kiosk or train company direct, otherwise expect to pay a hefty travel agent commission. In this case we were taking the high speed train from Naples to Rome and they charged a 26 Euro commission, when we could have just purchased directly from a Kiosk.

Leonardo Express

The Rome central train station to FCO airport leaves every 15 minutes for 14 Euro. The Leonardo Express is an airport rail service linking the center of Rome with its largest airport, Leonardo da Vinci-Fiumicino Airport, in the region of Lazio, central Italy. The service is operated by Trenitalia, and takes 32 minutes to travel the 37 kilometres between its two stops.

Leonardo Express

Be sure to validate your ticket prior to getting on the train. Leonardo express is the non-stop service that connects the Roma Termini train station, the main interchange for all public transport services as well as the lines for Florence/Bologna/Milan/Venice and for Naples/Salerno, to the Rome Fiumicino Airport in just 32 minutes, with departures scheduled every 30 minutes. The train station is conveniently located inside the airport. If you purchase 4 or more tickets, the entire transaction is 40 Euro instead of 56 Euro.
