Why Charter A Jet?

On a recent cruise, our group chartered a small business jet from Barcelona to Zurich.

Not only was it super convenience, but an amazing experience.

Most locations in Europe are an easy 1.5 hour flight or less point to point. Chartering a jet provides a very economical way for 6 people to travel First Class, avoiding airport hassle of long lines and waits. It also provides a customized service to your destination direct. In this case, we were leaving the cruise ship on a Sunday, and wanted to spend a few days at the Burgenstock Resort near Lucerne, Switzerland. There is actually an airport next to the resort, but unfortunately closed on the weekends, so we had to fly into Zurich, then take a van (weather was not good enough for a helicopter transfer) to the resort.

Flying over the Swiss Alps...

Enroute from Barcelona to Zurich. It was November so there was snow on most of the mountains. Because it was a Sunday after our cruise, we could not land at the Burgenstock Resort directly (Buochs Airport LSZC) which is closed on Sunday's to limit sound. It turns out there was a mini snow storm in Lucerne, so we couldn't take a helicopter from ZRH to the private helipad at the Burgenstock, so we took a van from Zurich to the Burgenstock above Lucerne.
